GENERAL NEWS.

A Fatal Quarrel.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 4.—St. Paul [illegible] was yesterday evening the scene of a [illegible] hand to hand conflict between two young women, Jane McKellar and Frances McNair. The victorious one [illegible] her rival's heart. For a long time there had been bad feeling between the two women, although they avoided each other as much as possible. There was a young gallant in the case, and it is said Frances McNair had won his affection, although at first he seemed to have preferred the other. During the last three days hot messages had passed between the two women, the exact tenor of which has not leaked out, although important sensational developments are [illegible] before officers get through with the affair. At any rate whether by appointment or not, the two women met last evening in a quiet dell not far from the main road and began to settle the trouble between themselves. Pate McKellar was larger and more muscular, though her antagonist was lithe and quick of motion. They fought each other like tigers, and finally Jane McKellar succeeded in throwing her small but plucky opponent, and with her knee pressed on the stomach of the prostrate woman, gripping her by the throat with the fury of a demon, well nigh choked the life from her, when finally by a great effort, Frances McNair gave a sudden twist of her body, forcing her antagonist to lose her hold and fall sideways to the ground. Naturally [illegible] of hate and revenge, drew a [illegible] knife and plunged it in the heart of Jane McKellar, who died with one gasp. Then at the sight of the gaping wound, the victor in the fight fell in a swoon across the dead body, where she was found. A party had followed them, but arrived too late to prevent the terrible tragedy.

Aiding the Refugees

NEW YORK, June 4.—A convention of the various Hebrew immigrant aid societies was held to-day to take action for the reception, distribution, transportation and colonization of Russian refugees. President Henry said that since December, 1881, 7,[illegible] had been received. $49 refugees cared for and about 3000 located and that $7237 remained in the treasury. Permanent organization was effected by election of Judge Isaacs chairman, Henry Mack, of Cincinnati, vice-chairman, and Arthur and Kaufhold secretaries. Geo. S. [illegible] of London, [illegible] committee London, addressed the convention on the subject of his mission to America.

The Great Strike.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The progress of the great strike in the west is eagerly watched by the trades unions and working people here, and the question of rendering pecuniary assistance to the men that are out, should such be needed, is already under discussion. There are intimations from some quarters that railway employes are in sympathy with the movement and may participate in it, but at the companies offices here these were discredited. In regard to the strike here it may be stated that a number of iron shops have acceded to their demands and to-day about 860 of the striking boiler makers returned to work at the increased pay.

Everything Quiet.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Everything remains quiet among the rolling mill strikers at Grandale. Talks with them indicate that they expect a speedy settlement of the difficulty at Pittsburg, and instructions from the leaders to begin work again which they would be glad to obey. Rumors are current that negotiations are being carried on with a view to settlement between employers and employes on a basis of five per cent advance.

Heavy Gales.

The Inter Ocean has specials from points along the east shore of Lake Michigan stating that a very heavy gale from the northwest yesterday, caused mariners considerable trouble.

Petroleum found in Kansas.

BAXTER SPRINGS, June 4.—A report was circulated yesterday that some men digging a well for J. H. Naylor, in the western part of the town, had struck a flowing vein of petroleum at a depth of 41 feet. Several leading business men at once went out and found several barrels of crude material had already been raised to the surface. Coal oil experts from the oil region of Pennsylvania pronounce it genuine crude petroleum of extra good quality. It is easily ignited by the flame of a match, and is very combustible. Great excitement prevails, and $10,000 has been offered for a fifteen acre tract on which the well is situated. There is a movement on foot for the forming of a company to purchase the ground and put in machinery at once.

A Mahone Movement in Texas.

ST. LOUIS, June 3.—Republican's Dallas special: Circulars have been received from administration circles in Washington looking to a Mahone movement in Texas. Circulars are sent to republicans, greenbackers and independents, and favor Swain [illegible] for governor. A request is made to be forwarded to Washington a list of counties that can be carried against the democrats, a list of those that are doubtful, and the amount of money needed in a vigorous campaign. Nearly all opponents to the democracy are outspoken against the candidacy of General Robertson. They say he has little strength, is still nominated, and promulgated his own platform. It is evident things are being fixed to support Jones.

Sale Confirmed.

ST. LOUIS, June 3.—From a source deemed entirely reliable, it is learned here to-night the reported sale of the Gulf, Colorado, Texas and Mexican road to the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe is confirmed. The price paid is stated to be $16,000 per mile instead of $12,000. Said papers are ready for signature and submission to the two directors, and transfer of property will be formally made by July 1st.

The Accidental List.

DECATUR, Ill., June 3.—A kerosene oil can exploded at the residence of Alex. Adams, at 3 o'clock last night and set fire to three children, burning them all to death. The accident was caused by attempting to fill a lamp while burning.

MILWAUKEE, June 4.—The boiler engine at Norris, Wisconsin, exploded yesterday, killing the fireman and Henry Hopkins, blowing the engineer, name unknown to atoms, fatally hurting Fred Otto, and injuring four others so there are doubts of their recovery.

A Sad Ceremony.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—Lieut. Augustine Hewitt, of the 2nd infantry, died at San Antonio, Tex., after a short illness yesterday. Prior to death and after his case had been pronounced hopeless by physicians, he was married to Miss Katharine, eldest daughter of Col. Blanton Duncan. Mrs. Hewitt is also very sick and not expected to live. Lieut. Hewitt was a native of Bridgeport, Conn.

The Pacific Bank Situation.

BOSTON, June 4.—Receiver Price of the Pacific bank says he will pay no attention to the association formed to contest payment of the assessment levied on the new stock. He received no instructions from Comptroller Knox regarding the matter and unless ordered otherwise, will bring suits in all cases where refusal to pay is made.

Heavy Rainfall in Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 4.—The heaviest rainfall in any 24 consecutive hours in the last four years, has fallen. Since the first of May to date a fraction over 11 inches has fallen here. Streams in the vicinity are greatly swollen and bottom lands overflowed, bridges in numerous loss of stock reported, and damage to crops considerable. Railroads centering here are greatly interrupted, but are getting in order again, and all damages will be repaired before Monday morning.

Heavy Storms in Virginia.

PETERSBURG, June 4.—A storm this afternoon extending from Halifax to Garysburg, North Carolina, leveled houses, trees and fences in a common wreck. At one house two children were killed. Hailstones as large as a man's fist fell, damaging crops seriously, and it is feared fallen trees will delay trains.

Heavy Cattle Drive.

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 3.—Nearly a hundred thousand head of cattle and twenty thousand horses have been driven through so far this spring for points north and east. Great numbers are yet to come.

Hanged.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 4.—Wm. Moon, sentenced to be hanged yesterday at Carrollton, but who received a respite of 48 hours on account of attempted suicide, was hanged to-day.

New York Notes.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Wm. Brockway alias Edward Spencer, the notorious counterfeiter, has been arrested and placed in Ludlow street jail.

The president and Secretary Folger, arrived Saturday night from New York.

The Post Sunday says: "It is thought the president will veto the act disposing of the balance of the Geneva award fund."

The Post will also state that Judge Larder will Monday deliver a decision denying the motion for a new hearing in the Guiteau case. All the judges of the supreme court of the district, after consultation, decided every point raised in the motion has already been fully considered and decided. Eminent lawyers think there is no probability of a writ of habeas corpus being issued by any judge of the U.S. supreme court and that no legal measures will be taken in the case after a motion for rehearing, Monday, except legal execution of sentence.

Base Ball.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Clevelands, 5; Philadelphias, 3.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Metropolitans, 8; Troys, 3.

BOSTON, June 1.—Bostons, 4; Detroits, 4. Fourteen innings and game drawn.

Crop Acreage in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Ks., June 4.—Eighty counties have reported through their clerks to the secretary of the state board of agriculture their abstract of assessors [illegible]. These counties aggregate in wheat acreage 1,[illegible] 233 acres, an increase over 1881 of [illegible] loss of 30 per cent of [illegible] acreage in [illegible] while all other [illegible] increase in [illegible] [illegible] have [illegible] lost, and the [illegible] [illegible] wheat, the yield [illegible] last, and all try to [illegible] for Kansas [illegible] year is promising.

WASHINGTON CITY

Work in the House

WASHINGTON, June 4.—[illegible] yesterday [illegible] republican contests [illegible] Geo. Wheeler [illegible] [illegible] district [illegible] rules will be [illegible] appropriation [illegible] [illegible] man, from the fifth South Carolina [illegible] considered by the sub-committee [illegible] it is expected [illegible] made to the house from the full [illegible] the work. House [illegible] committee, said to-day that [illegible] appropriations for support of the government [illegible] be made until after expiration [illegible] Twenty-seven days only remain before [illegible] general deficiency and legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bills are reported to the house [illegible] The pension bill is ready to be reported and sundry other bills have been approved by sub-committees.

[illegible] was ordered with a [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] would be [illegible] the [illegible] will [illegible]

Shipments of Funds.

[illegible] June 4.—[illegible] Washington [illegible] [illegible] the late [illegible] [illegible] will [illegible] [illegible] the subject [illegible] he was not the least [illegible] that the Shipherd [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] right [illegible] apparently [illegible] [illegible] seen and being carried away by [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] nothing at all. He said the whole [illegible] the state department and it [illegible] first time it was known that Shipherd had offered a bribe of a quarter of a million [illegible] worthless stock [illegible] Hurlbut [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] setting for father business. It is not likely he will be summoned. It appears before the committee [illegible] they have already [illegible] [illegible] convinces them of the truth [illegible]

The Bond Forgery.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—There is a mystery as to the case of Brockway, the bond forger, who was arrested in New York and brought to Washington last night. Until Brockway's lawyer arrived the city [illegible] will insist that government carry out its original agreement with him [illegible] [illegible] the government [illegible] [illegible] Brockway's indictment and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the individuals who have appeared against him [illegible] doubt in the minds of the treasury officials [illegible] [illegible] the plates [illegible] bureau of engraving and printing.

It is believed that the government is in possession of no [illegible] information concerning the forgeries, but the utmost secrecy is maintained about it. It is reported that $25,000,000 of forged bonds made from impressions of [illegible] plates are in circulation, but this statement is denied with as many positiveness as it is made, and from sources entitled to much confidence. Sensational reports are also afloat of the issue of spurious silver certificates made from the impression of genuine plates.

Work of the Indians.

Gen. Sherman has submitted to the secretary of war the report of the board appointed to investigate as to the number of people killed and property stolen during the recent Indian outbreak in Arizona. Total killed, 42 wounded [illegible] depredations admitted as reported by citizens involved a total loss of stock and other property of $[illegible] belonging to Reuben Pusey, O. K. [illegible], Gonzales, Dr. J. H. Welch and Mrs. S. B. York. A copy of the report has been forwarded to the secretary of the interior.

Death of a Pickpocket.

NEW YORK, June 4.—James Dolan, king of pickpockets, died of heart disease in Sing Sing prison yesterday. He boasted that he could pick pockets equally well standing down or standing on his head. He was arrested at the Paris exposition with Red Leary and claimed to be a professor in an American institution visiting Europe to consult artists, but each got three and a half years in the galleys at Brest.

The Star Route Cases.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—There is a great deal of gossip among lawyers here about the jury chosen to try the star route cases. Government counsel [illegible] be over matched by counsel for defense, and it is asserted the jury is not at all objectionable to members of the ring. How much basis there is for the report that the jury has been fixed for acquittal cannot be determined in advance of presentation of evidence and rendering of a verdict. The charge appears at present to be most unjust and indecent.

An Extended Pleasure Trip.

Chief Justice Waite, Justice Gray, Gen. Sherman and one or two others will take a trip to Yellowstone park, Yosemite valley and other places of the Pacific coast this summer. This party of gentlemen will start early in July, and although Gen. Sherman has just returned from a long and busy journey to the coast, he is as enthusiastic over the project as if it were to be his first visit to these places instead of the tenth.

Washington Notes.

The attorney general decided further legislation is necessary to enforce the present 8 hour law.

Friends Civil says: Among several senate amendments proposed to the house, the bill extending charters of national banks and that of Beck relating to silver certificates and coin is the most important. A close examination of the bill will reveal that it embodies a covert scheme for practical demonetization of silver.

The bill recently introduced by Senator Chilcott of Colorado provides that when an adverse claim is filed against a mining patent, parties so attesting this [illegible] shall in case they fail to sustain their claim by proof, be liable to applicant for patent or his grantees for a bill of expenses of damages which shall be incurred by or result from filing of such protest or objection. The object of the bill is to prevent annoyances and actual blackmail against applicants for patents.

A meeting of the special committee charged with management of order of business was held. The only matter decided upon was that the general deficiency appropriation bill be taken up and disposed of as possible. Tuesday. Representative Page will, Monday, endeavor to pass the river and harbor bill under suspension of rules.

THE HOT WAVE.

How the Air Came up from Roseburg to Cool off a Sweltering Community.

From Sunday Oregonian.

Whew! How the city sweltered yesterday. From morn till noon, from noon till dewy eve, the sun poured forth its fiercest rays, and men and women mopped and fanned, and mopped again, while the sweat flowed little furrows down their grimy and shining cheeks. Business of all kinds lagged and the hardest work that men of leisure did was running for the thermometer and lemonade — [illegible] water. The above named instrument felt the influence and just bumped itself up to its best the figure of 1[illegible].

This was the state of affairs between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when there was scarcely a breath of air, and the river lay almost like a mirror. Suddenly from the south a long line of dust was seen rolling up street [illegible] from east to west [illegible] [illegible] the horizon. In the heart of the city there was not the slightest foreboding of what was to come, [illegible] the river only was there a gentle ripple, and but one skiff was in sight along the city front. The weather seemed [illegible] of any change and floated steadily on.

Meanwhile the line of dust had become a cloud and its contours grey [illegible] appalling, though magnificent in its extent. Steadily it rolled on over and over, obscuring everything as it passed. Those in the boat have just noticed it and have turned toward the shore, but it is too late, and the skillful helmsman again turns the bow head on to the approaching storm. In a moment the boat is tossed about as the smallest ship might be and many control [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in a few minutes however and the boat still rides safely.

The effect upon the condition of the atmosphere was marvelous. In half an hour the thermometer fell ten degrees, and continued for some time to sink rapidly. When the strength of the wind was spent and everybody had taken a good long breath of the fresh and welcome air, then came the wonder as to how it all happened.

The explanation of the matter is very simple. All day yesterday Roseburg people were treated to heavy thunder storms and the maximum thermometer at that place was only 66 degrees, with falling barometer, while in Portland the barometer rose. The intense heat here and the sudden cooling at Roseburg destroyed the usual equilibrium between the two places, and hence the sudden rush of cool air along the surface of the earth. An upper current of warm air in the opposite direction also passed, but of course was too high to be felt.

MR. ABRAHAM AND THAT MEDICINE BILL.

Roseburg, June 1.

Referring to the attack upon Hyman Abraham concerning medicines furnished for the volunteers in the Modoc war, we are authorized by both Hyman and Solomon Abraham to say that Abraham & Bro did not furnish the drugs to the volunteers. They did not deal in such articles. Dr. Adair, surgeon of the regiment, purchased the medicines from different druggists. As a matter of accommodation Abraham & Bro. advanced money, and as no security the accounts were assigned to them. They knew nothing whatever as to the original cost of the medicines or their true market value. Mr. Hyman Abraham requests the publication of this statement.

WASHINGTON, June [illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Springer [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the preamble [illegible] [illegible] that a number of [illegible] depositions [illegible] [illegible] and did [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] witnesses were sworn [illegible] some of the depositions had been changed [illegible]

At this point [illegible] objected to further reading, claiming the preamble was not [illegible] and [illegible] that it was not proper [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] that he would move to recommit with instructions.

Randall said it was due to the gentleman from Illinois (Springer) to state the preamble was not drawn up by him, but was placed in his charge after he had consulted his speech. Springer said he had a perfect good faith and if the gentleman (Reed) insisted to the contrary he was acting with all the right at foundation. [illegible] [illegible] the honorable gentleman that he (Springer) had always [illegible] [illegible] in face of the house and the [illegible] withdraw the imputation of bad faith and [illegible]

Reed—He has so.

Springer—Then I state that he cannot take a chance at doing what no honorable gentleman should do, imputing bad motives and false motives of another member.

Reed—I already [illegible] it.

The speaker ruled the resolution was in order in the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] portions of the preamble [illegible] [illegible] of debate.

Springer was successful however in getting the whole preamble on record [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of the chair. The appeal was laid on the table.

Springer then moved to recommit with instructions to the committee to ascertain the number of [illegible] ballots cast for either Lowe or Wheeler and to report a resolution giving the seat to the one having the highest number of legal votes, after rejecting all such ballots. Motion was lost, yeas 31, nays 138, a party vote except Smith of New York, who voted with the republicans. The previous question was then ordered without division.

Hazelton closed the debate with an hour's speech in favor of contestant. The resolution declaring contestant entitled to a seat was adopted, yeas 140, nays 2. Hardenburgh, Phelps and Rice of Ohio and Lowe appeared at the bar of the house and took the oath of office.

On motion of Springer, Senate joint resolution passed for printing the memorial address of James G. Blaine upon the life and character of the late President Garfield. House adjourned.

RUNNING THE RAPIDS.

From the Sunday Oregonian.

The river steamer Hurbert R. Thompson, the largest of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company's fleet, is now shown to be the fastest. Left her abiding place in the middle Columbia yesterday morning. Capt. J. Sn. McNulty in command, descended the rapids and after several stoppages landed at Ash street dock at 12:30 P. M. Two years service during which the craft carried more freight than any other boat on the river except perhaps the Wide West, [illegible] not to have told on her strength or her appearance. Her lower deck, her cabins, her staterooms and her woodwork is as clean and her engines as bright and powerful as when she entered the trade Sept. 20, 1878. Capt. McNulty's [illegible] [illegible] decorated each table [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the motto "Pride of the West."

THE START

Everything was in readiness Friday night. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the number of two or three hundred [illegible] been made to various officers of the company [illegible] [illegible] to make the thrilling passage on the Thompson but business as usual could not be accommodated and all were refused. Those who came down were John Holland, master boat builder, Wm. Johnson, [illegible] [illegible] engineer, David Smith steward and the crew. It is unnecessary to state that two [illegible] numbers of the press secreted themselves in the hold and made their appearance only just as the steamer had started into the rapids. At 6 o'clock the lines were cast off and the boat swept up the river to the early risers of the Dalles blast and lingering glance. Little crowds were assembled on the rear [illegible] of the Umatilla and Cosmopolitan hotels and at the wharf boat. They were principally old river men with enough sentimentality to recognize in stately wood and iron something [illegible] [illegible] and they said a sad farewell. The steamer turned and passed the wharf boat under full steam at 6:10.

THE TRIP

She had no load, drew two feet 3 inches forward and 3 feet 11 inches aft, and was trim with open to the upper cascades. Blackbird landing 10 miles was made in 34 minutes; White Salmon 21 miles, in 51 minutes and Hood River 25 miles, in 74 minutes. The Upper Cascades, 46 miles, was made in exactly two hours and one minute. Here she slowed down to make the bend behind the island, and in two minutes was on the crest of the falls, carried by the resistless current at tremendous speed. At the foot of the falls she was operated out and from the rapids with less roll and pitch than is often felt in the bay at Astoria. Not a bump, not a jar, nor a remarkable incident. The "Big Eddy" did not check her speed and she ploughed through all the seething waters as if this was her daily task. At the foot of the main fall she pitched slightly and afterwards rolled a few times, but the motion was not greater than experienced on the river opposite [illegible] [illegible] during high winds. The trades steering gear worked admirably and Capt. McNulty had no difficulty in keeping a course. The mate however had hold of the wheel all the while to prevent [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the gong, and to be ready in case of an accident [illegible] the apparatus.

The run from the upper rapids to Bradford's was made in six minutes and fifty seconds—distance three and a half or five miles according to the statements of four separate persons well acquainted with the river. Assuming only three miles to be the actual distance, the boat must have traveled a portion of the distance at the rate of forty or forty five miles an hour. On the rocks and in the boat were a group of men, Geo. Knaggs being the central figure, who cheered lustily. [illegible] further down an engine on the portage greeted the Thompson with a whistle. Straggling along the Washington shore was the entire Indian population of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] their elegant stores and loud greetings. One fellow however was busy with a dip net and did not even look up. As the steamer passed Bonneville the Wide West under Capt. John Wolf, and the passengers looked active and two hundred spectators, gave her a hearty welcome.

TO PORTLAND

The Lower Cascades were made in turn and steam [illegible] [illegible] Bonneville, [illegible] the Wide West. The following party, who [illegible] up Friday night to witness the descent [illegible] [illegible] Captain John C. Ainsworth and family, General J. W. Sprague and family, Captain J. Ainsworth and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. [illegible] with Captain Geo. Wright and Messrs. [illegible] Geo. W. Weidler and John Gates. [illegible] McNulty was warmly congratulated upon the safe trip by the several officers. At 1:20 the steamer passed the Lower Cascades at full steam. The Wide West was a few lengths ahead, running with the cut-off. The Thompson soon passed her and was three lengths ahead when the Wide West opened out but couldn't gain on her rival. Both boats ran at full speed for about [illegible] miles the Thompson steadily increasing the distance between her and her pursuer until she led fully one third of a mile. Just then Chief Engineer [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and Engineer Doran ordered steam bottled up and to run with the cut-off. The Thompson proceeded afterwards at a regular speed. Above Vancouver, the [illegible] G. Reed, Capt. Frank Coe in command met the stranger with a graceful salute [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] breeze. A stop of seven minutes was made to allow some of the visitors to board the Reed. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

LONDON LETTERS.

England's Timorous Policy towards Egypt—Edward Irving coming to America this year.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

NEW YORK, June 4.—[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the ministers [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] will be [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Sultan to intervene in Egyptian affairs [illegible] reversal of the English [illegible] [illegible] summary. Mr. Gladstone's [illegible] faith [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in the unspeakable Turk, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to keep the peace on the banks of the Nile. The Sultan of course is likely to take the fullest advantage of this favorable turn in his affairs and to exact conditions that will be humiliating. England's theory never was at so low an ebb in the past as now. The prospect for the Egyptian affair [illegible] [illegible] and meanwhile the Khedive's life is really in great danger owing to his placing [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] England will [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] therefore the arguments of Mr. Gladstone and his adherents go for very little.

The news of the extensive strikes in the American iron trade has produced a decided scare in the market for American railway securities. The most gloomy and spurious [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] are set afloat by the press while writers confidently affirming that the strikes may last for months. In city circles the word is being passed around that everything American ought to be sold immediately. But loss of confidence being so widespread, holding [illegible] upon a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] this strike can [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the most insidious influence upon the entire market. Much interest is felt in society circles at the return of the duke and duchess of Norfolk from their miracle working spring of Lourdes, in France. Their journey has been made with a faith worthy of times long past that a pilgrimage to the shrine of Lady of Lourdes would give the afflicted young [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] earl of Arundel and Surrey, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] that even now their [illegible] have [illegible] given up hope, though at present there is no sign of improvement in the child's condition. The modern pilgrimage excites derision in some quarters, but the feeling generally is mainly one of great sympathy for the sorrowing parents. It is said that Cardinal Manning, rather discouraged the journey, but the family priests urged it and their advice prevailed finally. The child and his parents are now in London in the strictest seclusion.

The duke of Westminster [illegible] hardly attaches any importance whatever to the talk of assassination of which he was informed a good deal of late, but his servants are somewhat alarmed by the talk of blowing up the house. The attempts of some enemy to occasion distress to the duke's family are as a matter of course ascribed to the scapegoat Irish. In the same way it was wisely rumored this morning that a great catastrophe of some sort would occur at the ceremony of trooping the colors in St. James park. The crowd of spectators was immense. Something dreadful happened. The royal princes were received with more than ordinary enthusiasm, and all London appeared to have turned out to see the show.

Notwithstanding the disturbed state of Ireland, Lord Dunraven went over to the Green Island last week to have a personal consultation with his tenants respecting a new basis of rents. Arbitrators had been appointed by each side to readjust all the terms [illegible] the estates and their awards were given in last Saturday. He has gone to reconcile if possible any differences that may yet exist, with the tenants [illegible] [illegible] fairly with all concerned. His example might be copied advantageously by other Irish landlords.

Mr. Henry E. Abbey is here negotiating with Henry Irving, the actor, for a tour of the United States next year. The arrangements are nearly set [illegible] and terms are extravagant. Irving is to appear in six plays, including Hamlet, Charles the First, The Bells, Louis Eleventh, and The Lyons Mail. Mr. Abbey does not care for Romeo and Juliet, being evidently of any opinion as to Irving's action in that play. Mr. Irving sails on the [illegible] of August in the Brittanic, on a brief run to Saratoga and Newport, for which W. H. Vanderbilt is to take him in charge. The next Irving revival here is to be Much Ado about Nothing.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The Tribune's London cable says: England really takes but languid interest in Egypt, the [illegible] [illegible] a few politicians excited. No even Arabi's outrageous attack of the Anglo-French ultimatum arouses much feeling. Some radical journals openly advocate Arabi's cause, declaring that it is but the English and French governments have brought about the crisis by supporting Anglo French control in open usurpation of authority over the Egyptian revenues, dictating to those set aside for dividend purposes. But the ministry considers itself pledged to support the Khedive, and once more to follow the French lead by accepting the proposal for a conference in Constantinople. Every proposal which England before made France is rejected, and no steps yet taken mostly for the military difficulties of the situation. England and France agreeing that it is impracticable to employ any but Turkish troops, and hoping that something may occur to dispense with troops altogether. The Alexandria earth works, it is thought, have no object but to occupy Arabi's soldiers. It is known that there are no guns in Egypt suitable to mount.

London is now overcrowded with Americans and country visitors that there is scarcely bed room to be had for love or money. I the repeat the warning I have already sent by mail to intending tourists to secure accommodation beforehand—well beforehand.

The death of Balzac's widow at the age of seventy-seven recalls a charming anecdote told, in one of his letters. When traveling in Poland he arrived rather late one evening in the neighborhood of an isolated chateau and was asked to stay there. He soon made himself known to the mistress of the house, and had some conversation with her, when a beautiful young girl came in and silently poured out the tea. She was advancing toward the stranger with the cup in her hand when the lady of the house again took up the conversation: "You were saying M. de Balzac—" At that moment the cup the young girl was holding dropped on the ground and she clasped her hands, exclaiming: "Can it be the great M. de Balzac!" "For that one instant," writes Balzac, "I tasted the sweetness of fame." The young girl was Eveline Rzewuska, who afterward became Countess Hanska, and who finally, after many years of tedious waiting, married poor Balzac, who died a few months after the wedding, which took place in 1850.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS,

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

A General Budget of News.

VICTORIA, June 3.—Barque W. H. Besse, from Hongkong, with a cargo of Chinese, arrived last night. Steamship Dakota arrived at 12 o'clock last night and goes to [illegible] to-night.

While nearing the harbor two of the steerage passengers named John Hask and Pat Kelly engaged in skylarking, and from skylarking came to blows. [illegible] [illegible] drawing a revolver for the purpose of [illegible] the other, when the weapon went off, the ball grazing the head of Kelly. The shooter was placed in irons and handed over to the Victoria police, but this [illegible] the wounded man made affidavit that the shooting was an accident, and the man was handed over to the custody of Captain Morse.

A deputation of merchants interested in fisheries waited on the government yesterday to solicit aid in the proper representation of British Columbia products at the International fishery exhibition in London.

While a train was returning to Yale yesterday afternoon one of the cars got off the track near the suspension bridge. Some of the workmen feeling alarmed at the situation jumped from the car and were injured. Those who remained on the car escaped. The injured parties were brought to the hospital here. Their names are as follows: Samuel Dompe, severe bruise on the right leg; Patrick Bourke, bruises on the back and side; and James Dougherty, who was coming down on the car on account of injuries received higher up the line, got further injured by jumping from the car.

The remains of the child of Gavin Hamilton lost nine months ago on the Cariboo road, have been found in a clearing, partly devoured by wild beasts. Three or four ribs, the lower jaw and part of the upper jaw remained. The linen was all torn in such bits by animals. The dress and heavy flannel petticoat were nearly whole. A lock of her hair was also found and some baby [illegible].

The Fraser river is still rising fast and is now within a foot of last summer's high water mark. Should the hot weather continue a few days apprehensions are entertained of an early and serious overflow.

The steamship Barnard Castle passed up yesterday.

The bark Chiloe, the last but one of the Victoria Island fleet, arrived at London on the 1st.

All the latest news from Nakous is that snow lies heavy on the ground and mining operations are suspended.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Seattle Notes.

SEATTLE, June 4.—[illegible] Baxter, chairman, has called a meeting of the republican territorial central committee at Vancouver on the 21st of June.

The heat of the past few days has been the greatest of the year, the thermometer for three days being to 90 and upwards.

Nine vessels took cargoes of Puget Sound lumber to foreign ports during the month of May, aggregating nearly 7,000,000 feet.

This city has given a contract to E. Y. Renton to build a two story brick house to be used for a prison, engine house, council chamber and office, the cost to be $7575.

The bids for street work will be considered and the contract awarded next Friday night. The bid of Leary, Jordan and Butler was for $33,973, and that of P. O. [illegible]stwick, the next lowest $34,183.

Three Skikomish Indians, two boys and a squaw, were drowned on that river last Sunday about 15 miles above the mouth of the Sultan. A canoe containing seven of them was coming down from the mountains when as they were attempting to run a riffle it struck a boulder and went to pieces. Four of the Indians succeeded in reaching shore, but the squaw and boys, who were unable to swim, were drowned as above stated.

Prince de Rohan, a member of the Austrian jockey club and a shrewd man of the world in many ways, was recently persuaded by an American that he had discovered a process by which gold could be manufactured at a large profit. Wise, as the American inventor was named, did not pretend that he had discovered the philosopher's stone, but he confided to Prince de Rohan and to a French gentleman now deceased that he was in possession of a secret by which ten ounces of gold might when melted with a due proportion of silver metals be converted into fifty ounces. He offered to make some practical experiments in the presence of these two gentlemen and the experiments seemed so conclusive that they consented to enter into partnership with him. A house was hired for conducting the business and Wise began so well that after a few bars of the gold manufactured by him had been sold at a [illegible] his two associates invested more capital in the undertaking. This was the critical moment for Wise, who upon finding himself in possession of a large sum of money at once decamped.

C. F. PEARSON'S

ROOFING COMPOSITION.

Patented Nov. 16, 1880.

This is a process by which a condemned tin or canvas roof can be made better than a new tin or canvas roof, and make it last forever.

It WILL NOT Crack and Leak

By reason of contraction or expansion, as is the result with a tin roof. It is simple in construction and durable in all climates. It consists only of cloth and paint composition.

BY PERMISSION WE REFER:

PORTLAND, Or., March 29, 1882.

MR. C. F. PEARSON, PORTLAND, OREGON:

Dear Sir: Your Roofing Composition has been thoroughly tried in this city, and so far as I know has given general satisfaction. From what I know and have seen I believe it to be better and more durable than either tin or asbestos. Very Respectfully,

GEO. J. AINSWORTH,
Supt. River Division, O. R. & N. Co.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 4, 1882.

MR. C. F. PEARSON.

Dear Sir—We take this opportunity to express our entire satisfaction with your roofing composition that has been on over our store for the last five years. We shall cheerfully recommend your invention as being the best thing we know of for a roof. Respectfully yours,

W. JACKSON & CO.,
Importers and Dealers in Crockery and Glassware, No. 54 Front St.

ALAMEDA, Cal., March 28, 1882.

MR. C. F. PEARSON.

Dear Sir—I take great pleasure in being able to say that I consider your Roofing Composition a first-class article for the purpose for which it is intended, and that it possesses all qualities claimed for it, and I can cheerfully recommend it to those having need for such an article. Very respectfully,

B. R. THOMPSON.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 24, 1882.

MR. C. F. PEARSON.

Dear Sir—Allow me to testify my appreciation of your durable roofing composition. As this steamer was placed on the opposition line last summer, it was roughly used by the passenger travel. It did not injure it at all. Had it been a tin or any other kind of roof it would have required repair, if not entirely spoiled. It is now in as good condition without any additional cost as when first put on. Yours respectfully,

JAMES WILSON,
Master O. R. & N. Co's Str. Dixie Thompson.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 24, 1882.

MR. C. F. PEARSON.

Dear Sir: Notwithstanding our efforts to secure a good roof over our immense stock of goods—we have tried asbestos roof and plain tin roof with all the mechanical skill—we have been losers of goods to thousands of dollars from leaky roofs until we got your roofing on position on over our store. It has given entire satisfaction. Never caused the loss of goods to the value of one cent. It has now been on for years. Very respectfully yours,

FLEISCHNER MAYER & CO.,
Importers of Dry Goods.

OAKLAND, Cal., March 11, 1882.

C. F. PEARSON.

Dear Sir—I have tried your "Roofing Composition" on several of my houses in Portland, Oregon. They all, so far as I know, have given entire satisfaction. I believe it makes a better roof than tin or asbestos. Respectfully yours,

J. C. AINSWORTH.

We claim it to be superior to anything yet discovered in the shape of a roof, and it will save its cost, even on a new roof, in less than no time.

The "Cloth Paint Composition," and the manner of applying the same, is included in the Letter of Patent, granted Nov. 16, 1880. Any infringement on same shall be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 5, 1882.

TO-DAY'S ELECTION.

The election of to-day is, in many respects, an event of unusual importance. It is the first election in our state since the new and active life of the state began. As a community we are not what we were twenty, ten, or even five years ago. There is a new departure. The departure in politics and in public affairs ought to correspond with the new movement in industrial and commercial activity, in increase of population, growth of public spirit, business, wealth and general development. Not very many persons outside of Multnomah county will have opportunity to read this number of THE OREGONIAN till after they have cast their ballots. What we shall say here must therefore be addressed chiefly to the nearest circle of readers.

By the election of the republican legislative ticket for Multnomah the interests of this county and city will be placed in safe hands; and moreover, those who think a republican United States senator ought to be chosen, will see the necessity of sending republicans rather than democrats to the legislature. It is a most disagreeable and shabby fact that Oregon has now neither industry, ability nor influence in the United States senate. Two "wooden men" occupy her seats in that body. Neither of them has done or is doing anything for the commercial development of the state. Neither of them is ever thought of in connection with actual affairs. If anything is to be done it never occurs to any citizen that the state has two senators in congress. The representative is thought of only. And now stolid Bourbon partisanship presents and urges another "wooden man" to take the place of Mr. George. No part of the state has more interest in this matter than Multnomah county. Let us have men in congress who have industry, intelligence and energy. That is to say, put a live man in Grover's place and re-elect George. A live man also for governor is a necessity. Oregon has had enough of valtudinarian imbecility, fossilized partisanship and indolent stupidity, in her most important positions. Let us have men who are not altogether traditions of times long past. Give us representatives who are able to catch and comprehend the spirit of the new activity and growth now beginning to rise and surge through the whole northwest. Twenty years ago it might have been very well to place Mr. Joseph Smith in the executive office of the state. He belonged to that time rather than this. As a representative of the day of small things and slow things, his nomination then would have been fit enough. But the country is now leaving men like Mr. Smith to the repose of time. It does not wish to disturb their resting place. They sleep well. But loyalty to their memories and protection of their graves from desecration are the only duties now remaining to be performed to them. The country must face the new facts of its own existence and situation. Only those are fit to be placed at the head of public affairs who know that something is taking place in our state; who have some real blood in their veins; in whom nature, heavy and dull, is not growing altogether towards earth; whose conceptions of activity and life are not fashioned on the experience through which Oregon, by reason of her remoteness and isolation, passed during the last generation. Our state is now represented in the senate on this old basis of inactivity and dullness. Another person of this same sort is the candidate of their party for the office of governor. Has our state in its present course, in its new career, any use for these triple relics of a faded antiquity? Men like Grover, Smith and Slater are mere anachronisms. But their party is so fossilized that they are still looked upon as its leaders; they direct its course; the young men of the party, as Fenton and Weatherford, bring no young blood into it; Grover, Smith and Slater are their oracles, and the old creed of Bourbonism remains their infallible guide. Of public business, in the larger sense, and of the need of measures for development of the state, this ancient statesmanship has no conception. Under it men are made governors or elected to congress solely for party. For his party Grover was governor; for his party he has been senator. Smith is a candidate only to advance the "glorious principles" of that reminiscence known as the democratic party; and Fenton wants to go to congress, not to serve the state,—since this idea rarely enters the thought of the democratic politician, to whom party is all in all,—but to make a vote for his party in the house. Now let us ask if there is anything in the history of the democratic party for the last twenty-five years that warrants our state in forgetting its real interests to uphold it? Why elect Smith? Because he is a democrat? This is the only reason. Are we likewise to set George aside for Fenton, discarding proven ability for confessed inexperience, just because Fenton is a democrat? And is Grover, whose career as a senator has not been signalized by a single act of value to the state, to be sent back to sit for six years longer "in cold obstruction," on the sole recommendation of fidelity to the democratic party? Surely the people of Oregon want something more.

This city of Portland, the focal point of the business of the northwest, is particularly interested in all that concerns the growth and development of this great country. To this end we want the aid of the general government. In M. C. George the state has an energetic representative, who has already made his mark in work actually accomplished. It ought to re-elect him by a great majority. It should also send a living man to the United States senate to take the place of one of the dead-heads now in that body, and should at the same time prepare the way for the supersedure of the other dead-head two years hence. Election of a republican legislature is necessary to this end, because the influence of Bourbon antiquity dominates the democratic party, and if that party gains a majority in the legislature it will re-elect Grover or take some other petrified relic of an obsolete period. Moody ought to be elected governor, so as to leave Smith free to practice his devotions to an effete partisanship which he has always blindly worshiped, and to take care of his health which unfortunately is about as feeble, shaky and as much past its period of usefulness as his party itself. There are democrats as well as republicans who perceive that the real interests of the state can be served best by interring political fossilism or setting up its specimens in a museum, while living men, who represent the living purposes and movements of the time, are called to the direction of public affairs. This is the real significance of the election of to-day.

Citizens of Oregon, elect a man to congress who will represent the whole state. Such a man is M. C. George. He has been tried and proved. Citizens of Portland, vote for a man who will do justice to your city. Such a man is M. C. George. He has been tried and proved. Multnomah county, looking to her own interests, as well as to those of the whole state, ought to give George 2000 majority. She gave him 1100 majority two years ago on her faith in him, though he was then an untried man. He has since justified that faith most fully. His present competitor, W. D. Fenton, is known to be one of those who entertain the narrow view that Portland has too many advantages; that the city is growing too fast for the state and at the expense of the state; that she sits here to rob the producer of his toil; that efforts to improve the lower Columbia river and bar concern Portland chiefly and the remainder of the state very little, and that Portland in her selfishness is really an enemy to the state at large. Mr. George has taken a larger view. He has neglected no part of the state, nor has he forgotten that Portland is the chief city. He sees commerce centering here; not Portland's commerce alone, but the larger part of the commerce of the whole northwest. For accommodation of this commerce, not for Portland's benefit alone, he contends for necessary improvement of the rivers and the bar. Does any one suppose for a moment that Mr. Fenton would do as well? He would not, because in the first place his prejudices would be in the way, and in the next place he is one of those who go to congress for partisan objects, and only in a secondary way to promote the material development of the country. In fact the democratic party has always been opposed to the policy of internal improvements by the general government. It once held that policy unconstitutional; and Mr. Fenton is one of those democrats who got their party creed with their milk, and can be useful to the country only as they unlearn it. Between him and George no citizen who recognizes the importance of pushing measures now for development of the state ought to hesitate. Re-elect George and give him a chance to go on with the work he has so well begun.

The New York Herald has at last replied to the various criticisms of the press upon the failure of the Jeannette expedition now that they have found place in the Tribune and Sun. The latter has said: "It strikes us that the question should be, whether anything is to be done by Mr. James Gordon Bennett rather than by the public. If the Jeannette expedition had been successful Mr. Bennett would have gained immense credit. We believe, when he reflects on the matter, he will see the propriety of personally assuming the burdens resulting from its failure." The Herald in reply said: "We beg to assure the astute editor of the Sun that Mr. Bennett had reflected on the matter already some three years ago, and that almost the last words uttered by the magnanimous commander of the Jeannette to Mr. Bennett were a recognition that in event of possible misfortune to himself, which he fully contemplated and knowingly adventured, care would be taken of his wife and child—not 'children' as the Tribune states." Furthermore, assurance is given that Mr. Bennett will not only provide handsomely for DeLong's wife and child, but for every widow and orphan made by the ill-fated enterprise. This certainly places Mr. Bennett in a good light.

It appears from the statement telegraphed from Roseburg by Messrs. W. F. Owens and L. F. Lane that Mr. Hyman Abraham did not sell to the state the drugs and medicines for which the rascally prices exposed by THE OREGONIAN were paid. His name was simply used as a cover to the transaction. If Mr. Abraham did not know it was a scheme of robbery,—for that is just what it was—he was at least remiss in allowing his name to be used to sanction a transaction that prudence would at once have suspected. The bill stands on the records of the state in the name of Abraham & Bro. It is quite like all the other doings of the Grover administration. There was stealing right and left; and yet nobody is responsible. The people, however, hold those responsible whose names are connected with it.

C. J. Christie is not a suitable man for county assessor. His standing as a man, his knowledge of the duties of the position, his relations to the business and taxpaying community, do not warrant his election. This office is a most important one. In Mr. Sanders is supplied everything in which his competitor is wanting for the position—experience, capacity and all necessary qualifications. Taxpayers, lookout!

O. F. Paxton is a very proper man for the office of superintendent of schools. It is a good idea to elect to this position a man outside of the circle of professional pedagogism. Our schools are apt to fall too much under the control of hobbyists and specialists, who form a "school machine" somewhat after the model of the partisan machine. Of this Multnomah county and the city of Portland have seen a good deal.

Don't forget the justices of the peace. Some who are candidates for re-election ought by all means to be defeated. Bybee and Petrain have been instanced before. We call attention to them again. Let voters scratch till parasites are rubbed off the body politic. A new set of men will make less exorbitant bills against the county. Turn the old set out to look up some other employment.

The vote of Multnomah county to-day, if all polled out, will reach 8000. Of these the democratic ticket will not receive much over 3000. The extent of the republican majority in the county will depend on the interest taken in the election and the fullness of their vote. There was 1000 majority two years ago. It ought to be larger now.

By its coarse, vituperative and violent attacks on George C. Sears the bourbon organ has been making votes for him during the past week by scores. There is a proper limit to criticism of candidates. When it passes the proper limit and is clearly inspired by personal malignity and partisan rancor it recoils always on its authors.

Many democrats are working for Leander Holmes for justice of the peace in Morrison precinct. He is well qualified for the position and will fill it honestly. If the matter is not overlooked by the better class of voters he will easily be elected.

Hon. J. F. Caples has made a very efficient prosecuting attorney. He has been a terror to evil doers, and has won the right to the support of all who have an interest in law and order, and the enforcement of justice.

All sorts of ballots will be printed and offered to-day. The voter, that he may be sure his ballot is in accord with his wishes, should examine it throughout. Otherwise he will pretty surely be imposed upon.

A LADY

SAYS:

"THE OVAL CAKE"

Is revolutionizing the Soap Trade. Housekeepers who once try it never again go back to the wasteful, adulterated and incompletely pressed styles heretofore in use. The advantages of

[illegible] Soap

Over all other Laundry Soaps are:

1st. It is the only Soap molded by STEAM pressure, and consequently contains more soap and less water to the pound than the old style and pressed soaps.

2d. The Oval Cake does not, like the other styles, wash away in using to a thin piece, which crumbles and is wasted, but it wears down to a thick lump, which you can stick on [illegible] and use entirely up.

3d. It contains no adulteration whatever.

4th. It is the handsomest, most convenient to handle, most economical, and (considering its superior quality) the cheapest Washing Soap ever made. m25d2w

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Daily Oregonian.
MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 5, 1882.

CITY.

BASE BALL GAME SPOILED.—The excursion to Vancouver yesterday, given by the Star base ball club for the benefit of Edward Miller, turned out quite well, the sale of tickets exceeding the highest expectation of those concerned. The steamboat and barge carrying the passengers were both crowded, not, however, to such an extent as to render it uncomfortable, and the ride very enjoyable. The feature of the day was the base ball match, which turned out unsatisfactory to both sides and the spectators. The captain of the Vancouver nine had obtained permission to play on the barracks grounds, from General Morrow. The players began the game in high spirits and fared well up to the third inning, the score standing 5 for the Bullsticks and 2 for the stars. The third inning was just being finished with the Vancouver nine at the bat, when an order came from General Miles to discontinue the game. General Morrow told the captain of the Vancouver nine that he could not account for the order, but of course could not allow them to play. It was supposed by the privates that it was unnecessary to consult General Miles on so trifling a subject, and that the permission to play from the first commander was sufficient. Those who had gone there to see the game were disappointed, but the failure was atoned for in a certain measure by the Bullsticks, who entertained their guests in a fine style, setting them an excellent lunch at the garrison, and doing everything possible to make the trip a pleasant one for them. A game will probably be played on neutral grounds before long.

JULIE RIVE-KING'S COMPANY.—Manager Locke has finally positively engaged the following admirable soloists to appear with Mme. King in the four grand concerts to be given in Portland, the first one taking place next Monday evening: Mrs. Martha Porteus, a soprano of great compass of voice, remarkable for richness of tone and volume; Mrs. Porteus sings in the choir of Trinity church, San Francisco, and has within a year returned from Italy; also Miss Ivy Wandesforde, a soprano, not unknown to many in Portland, and a very great favorite both in San Francisco and here; Mrs. A. E. Stetson, conceded to be the finest contralto in San Francisco and connected with Dr. Stone's choir; for tenor comes Mr. Ben Clark, probably a better tenor than has ever visited Portland. Mr. Kinross has been selected by Mr. Locke as the baritone, and certainly will complete as strong a vocal corps as has ever been heard in Oregon. Mr. Locke has also engaged Mr. Edgar Coursen as accompanist, and with the brilliant Rive-King, will form what will probably prove to be the most attractive musical combination that has ever visited Portland.

ANOTHER DESCENT OF THE CASCADES.—About the middle of this week the wharf boat at The Dalles will be brought over the Cascades by Captain McNulty. More strictly speaking, an attempt will be made to bring it over. The building is 250 feet long and 50 feet wide. It has been fitted with a false bow, a steering wheel, and three very large rudders. Two heavy chain cables seventy fathoms long will be paid out from the bow and dragged. This will give the boat steerage way. Two hawsers attached to capstans have been placed near the bow, one on the port and one on the starboard side, by which the bow can be brought around, if necessary. These are an invention of John Holland, who alone can explain their workings. It can not be done on paper. The boat, if safely run, will be permanently moored at Bonneville.

THE HIGH WATER.—The Willamette is still rising rapidly. Not only is the effects of the backwater from the Columbia felt, but there is an unusual amount coming down from the headwaters of the Willamette itself. At 7 o'clock on Saturday night the standard gauge marked 18 feet and 10 inches, and at 10 o'clock last night the water stood 20 feet and 2 inches above low water mark, a rise of 1 foot and 4 inches. The telegraph line up the Columbia was down yesterday. It is safe to assume that the rise in the Snake and Columbia rivers was greater than that of any other day for a week past.

PICNIC AT AURORA PARK.—The second annual picnic of the Aurora Literary Society will take place next Thursday at Aurora Park. The annual address before the society will be delivered by the Hon. I. Allen Macrum. Other speakers will also address the society. Music will be furnished for the occasion by the Aurora brass band. Hacks will run to and from the park during the day. The society will give a dance in the evening at Pioneer hall.

LET SALOONS BE CLOSED.—The closing of all places where liquors are sold, on elections, is one of the most salutary provisions of the statutes, and all law-abiding men will obey it to the letter to-day, while its rigorous enforcement in the cases of those who do not, should be looked after by the peace officers of the city and county. The plan of keeping open the back door, though the front be kept locked, ought not to be tolerated.

FIRE IN A LUMBER PILE.—A slight fire broke out in Pennoyer's lumber yard on Saturday afternoon, during the wind storm, but was extinguished with little damage. The fire started from the burning of some rubbish in the yard, which was scattered by the wind, and the flames communicated to a pile of lumber. An alarm was sounded and two engines turned out, extinguishing the blaze in a few minutes.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady will deliver opinions in this court this morning in the cases of The United States v. Wm. Tichenor et al; the same v. Edward McGraw; the same v. Elisha H. Meservey, and the same v. Jacob B. Tichenor et al.

FOR PRIEST RAPIDS.—The O. R. & N. Co. will dispatch a boat Wednesday of next week from Celilo to Priest Rapids with freight for the Yakima and Kittitas valleys. It is likely that regular monthly trips will be made during the summer.

TO-DAY'S ELECTION.

The election of congressional, state, legislative and county tickets occurs to-day. Following is a list of voting places in the city:

BRIEF MENTION

The river rose less rapidly yesterday.

Mr. Gus Hegele is visiting his sister at Oakland.

Uncle Tom's Cabin at the New Market theater this evening.

The Columbia sails for San Francisco at 2 P. M. Mails close at 1.

Despite the slight shower in the morning there was no cessation in the heat yesterday.

Mr. Julius Kraemer will leave on the Columbia for San Francisco, where his family reside, and return with them on the same steamer.

Workmen were engaged yesterday altering the rails in the slip of the Stark street ferry for the purpose of drawing up the pontoon in the anticipation of a sudden rise in the river.

Hon. T. M. Reed, auditor of Washington territory, and grand secretary of the grand lodge A. F. and A. M., which meets at Walla Walla this week, is in the city on his way to attend the session.

When a man rows half a mile in the hot sun to pick up a tin cup which has fallen out of the boat and is floating away from him, and it sinks just as he reaches it, it is a good thing for the morals of the community that he is in the middle of the river.

Ross Island was quite a resort yesterday for people who sought for a cool and shady spot in which to escape the rays of the sun. Several parties camped the whole day along the pretty little lakes that the overflow has made upon the island.

ITEMS FROM SPRAGUE.

[FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

SPRAGUE, June 1.

Messrs. Waite and Armstrong are in demand to furnish music on all select occasions.

Mr. H. C. Coneggys, THE OREGONIAN'S correspondent at Kalama, spent Sunday in Sprague.

Mr. W. L. Moody is building a commodious lodging house on the corner of C and First streets.

J. F. Curtis, the master mechanic of the shops, will have the most elegant residence in Sprague.

Mr. Chas. F. Chilberg has bought a lot. It would not be so strange if he were to build a house and fill it with a wife.

Mr. W. A. Fairweather, of the firm of Sprague & Fairweather, and one of the most popular men in town, has gone to Portland for a few days.

G. Cox, the leading hardware merchant, says if many more subscription papers are passed around, he will soon be compelled to start one for himself.

Mr. Eugene Shelby, route agent for Wells, Fargo & Co., passed through today, on his way from Cabinet Landing, where an office has just been established by the company.

The Masons have purchased a lot from W. H. Carr and will at once erect a brick building thereon, the upper portion being used for a lodge room and the lower portion for a public hall.

The school meeting on last Friday evening, after electing A. Lewis, chairman, and Chas. Judd, secretary, having instructed Mr. Judd to write the school superintendent for instructions, adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

W. W. Sprague and W. H. Carr have bought a section of railroad land within a mile of town. It is good for agricultural purposes, and water is readily obtained at a depth of fifteen feet. This property is destined to become very valuable.

Rev. Dr. Nevius, of the Episcopal church, Rev. Geo. W. Sluss, of the Presbyterian, and Father Eels of the Congregational, are vigorously at work and will soon have church structures under way. The Catholics have also procured lots for a church.

Front street presented a gala appearance a few evenings since, the occasion being a race between an Indian's pony and a white man's pony. The brilliantly attired Indians and the swaggering white men afforded a true picture of frontier life. The race was for two hundred yards and was won by the white man.

Mr. Otis Sprague, acting superintendent of the Pend d'Oreille division of the Northern Pacific railroad, spent to-day here. As soon as the general offices are completed, which will be in about ten days, he will make his headquarters here. All employes of the company in the general office will also be transferred from Ainsworth.

Capt. W. H. Smallwood, formerly register of the land office at Vancouver, and more recently editor of the Klickitat Sentinel, has obtained the necessary number of subscriptions and will start a paper at this place, to be called the "Sprague Herald." The captain took a trip into the country, and was well pleased with its appearance, as also with the appearance and prospects of Sprague.

SATURDAY'S LOCAL NEWS.

[Condensed from The Sunday Oregonian]

Hottest day Saturday for three years.

Mrs. Carroll, accused of larceny by bailee, was discharged by Judge Moreland Saturday.

Mr. J. M. Strout, in charge of the laying of track on the O. R. & N. Co. through Albina, who broke his leg some time ago, has recovered its use and is at work again. He expects to lay track at the rate of a mile a day, until he reaches Bonneville.

CAPSIZED BY THE GALE.

During the sudden gust of wind yesterday afternoon, a sail boat was capsized below Ainsworth's wharf near the round house. It was called "Parcle" and belonged to Ralph Meade, who was sailing it at the time with a small party of friends. They were precipitated into the water, but fortunately all escaped with nothing more serious than a good wetting.

LODGE ELECTION.

Protection Lodge No. 2, A. O. U. W., of Salem, elected the following officers at their regular meeting Friday evening: Frank E. Hodgkin, W. M.; O. A. Walter, G. F.; W. J. Polly, overseer; Ira Erb, recorder; Chas. Uzafovage, financier; John W. Crawford, receiver; Allen Bloom, I. W.; John Green, O. W.; Jos. W. Sellwood, treasurer; Edward Hirsch, P. M. W.

SPRAINED BOTH ANKLES.

John Gleason, who was engaged in unloading the lime from the raised steamship Yaquina, while sitting on the edge of the hatchway, saw the bucket swinging toward him. There was but one way to escape it, to jump down the hatchway, and this he did, alighting square on both feet on the kelson at least a[illegible] feet below. The jump sprained both ankles and he was removed to the Hotel Zur Rheinpfalz, where Dr. Rex attended him and reduced the sprains.

SAVED FROM DROWNING.

The lowest avocations in life not infrequently produce the noblest heroes. Last Thursday night the waves were rolling high on the bar at the mouth of the Columbia, and one of Elmore's boats upset. The night was very stormy and there seemed but little hope for the unfortunate men. Close by the scene of the accident were two other men, Pierre Stenrant and his nephew, who, letting go their nets, plunged into the water, and at the peril of their lives, after almost superhuman exertions, succeeded in rescuing from death the two men, who were well nigh exhausted. It was a gallant deed and cannot be too highly commended.

ALMOST A DROWNING.

Last night, between 9 and 10 o'clock, a man, somewhat intoxicated, attracted the attention of several persons by shouting and screaming in the entrance to the slip of the Stark street ferry. When it was seen that there was no one in distress, the crowd that had gathered passed on, and the man, stopping his yelling, walked down to the end of the pontoon. The next that was heard of him was by two ladies, who were sitting on the bench waiting for the ferry, which was on the East Portland side. They were startled by a splash and a muffled shout for help as the man sank under the water. Several men standing on the sidewalk on Front street and a reporter of THE OREGONIAN, also heard it and rushed to the rescue. The man rose to the surface, was caught by eager hands, and drawn upon the pontoon, still too stupefied by drink to realize what had happened. When he got upon his feet he said he had $20, (and showed a $20 gold piece) that three men had tried to take it away from him and when he resisted they had knocked him in the water. The man's story was corroborated by a small boy who was the first to arrive upon the scene. He says he heard a dispute followed by the splash, and when he ran down he met two men coming up. The women say there was no one on the wharf but themselves and the man who fell in. The man refused to give his name and took the ferry for East Portland.

MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 5, 1882

NEWS OF SATURDAY.

[From the Sunday Oregonian.]

CHICAGO, June 2.—Philadelphia special: Geo. W. Merrick, independent republican candidate for secretary of internal affairs, has resigned as postmaster. In a scorching letter he says: "While I hold my commission from President Hayes, of civil service order No. 1 celebrity, I feel my part in the convention would probably meet your approval, being in conformity with views contained in a recent letter by Hon. Frank Hatton, first assistant postmaster general, to the postmaster at Cincinnati, Ohio. The objects of that convention meet my earnest approval and I conceive no good reason, so far as they relate to the state of Pennsylvania, why they should not meet the approval of the department. In its broader aspect, however, I can readily see how it might incur disapproval of the department. In the platform adopted we denounce the system which makes patronage and spoils a rule which, when tamely endured, makes leaders into autocrats, and reduces the mass of citizenship to political bondage. We demand, instead of the insolence and proscription and tyranny of bossism, the free and conscientious exercise of private judgment in political affairs. We declare our purpose to take up the work which fell when Garfield fell, and deplore the overwhelming evidence presented us in Pennsylvania, that the calamity of his assassination has been followed by the overthrow of these reforms in the hand of his successor. When one of the two seats of Pennsylvania in the United States senate represents nothing but an autocratic personalism instead of the people of the state, and the great state itself is nothing but an imperial satrapy handed down from father to son, is it too much for the people to ask why they shall not be represented by two United States senators? Has the Chicago conspiracy drawn the prize in the lottery of assassination by which its accidental power is to be solidified? The rule understood to be adopted by Hon. Frank Hatton in the postoffice department, is to weed out the 'half breeds.' If this is the dead sea fruit to which we are invited, as a result of the lamented Garfield's death, should it surprise us if the blood of the slain cry aloud from the earth? The resolution against these evils is but initial in Pennsylvania. Like conditions produce like results through many states. The people will not take up arms. There is a better way; but if the evils of misgovernment thus go on there will be such a sowing of dragon teeth, that even the political sagacity of an administration may be surprised at the crop that will spring up. Politics must have foundations, but political society is fluid not solid, and any particle may become the centeral a new movement."

Increasing Time of Running.

CHICAGO, June 3.—The fast time between Missouri river and Denver being made by rival railroads is attracting a good deal of attention. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe made the first move, announcing the schedule time of 23 hours between Kansas City and Denver. The Kansas Pacific division of the Union Pacific retaliated with a 20 hour train, and now announces a new through schedule embracing not only Denver, but Cheyenne, Ogden and San Francisco. Beginning to-morrow, the trains will leave Kansas City at 9:45 A.M., and reach Denver at 8:30 A. M., the actual running time being 22 hours and 45 minutes. The same train will reach Cheyenne at 11:15 P. M., or 27½ hours, connecting with the overland train for San Francisco. A similar record is made on east trains which leave Cheyenne after the arrival of the overland express at 3 P. M., leave Denver at 7:30 P. M. and arrive at Kansas City in 27 hours and 15 minutes. The Union Pacific threatens to make a hot fight now, and bring about even faster time. The Burlington will soon begin to run its passenger trains and will probably be a lively factor in the fight. As yet there has been no cutting of rates.

Villard's Latest Acquisition.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 3.—President Villard, of the Northern Pacific railroad, has announced that his company has closed the purchase, with the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railroad Company, of the latter's line along the east bank of the Mississippi river between Watab and Anoka. He also states that the Northern Pacific company will now proceed to bridge the Mississippi at Anoka, and from that point extend their purchased lines into Minneapolis. These changes assure to the Northern Pacific a continuous line owned by itself from Minneapolis to Brainerd, on its trunk line, and from Minneapolis, trains will reach St. Paul over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul. The Manitoba company, having disposed of its line on the east bank of the Mississippi will now complete its west side or St. Cloud and Minneapolis branch, which thus becomes their main line.

A Political Rumor.

CHICAGO, June 3.—Washington special: A private letter from New York was received here to-day from a gentleman in political life who has been with the president most of the time the past week, and says the administration has a surprise in store for the public which will be disclosed upon his return. The plan according to this gentleman is this: Lowell is to return from the London mission and his resignation is already on the way. Frelinghuysen will then adopt a foreign policy which shall be as advantageous to the administration as that of Blaine was to himself. Secretary Folger is to become the republican nominee for governor of New York and Don Cameron, as one of the means of healing the breach in Pennsylvania politics, is to succeed Folger as secretary of the treasury. This is the story, some parts of which may be verified by events.

New York Notes.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Inquiry into many deaths of children in the Hebrew [illegible] Home shows the little ones were dirty and covered with vermin and fed on meat not always fresh. One child that had passed one night in the home was in a horrible condition.

Eight hundred boiler makers have returned to work, employers giving increased wages.

James R. Keene said, in conversation to-day, that his colt Romeo would start for the grand prix at Paris on Sunday. Keene received a cable message from Sheatsgate Saturday to the effect that Romeo had arrived at Paris sound and in good shape.

It is reported that George C. Gorham is to become assistant secretary of the interior in place of Bell, who will be retired.

Hanged at Last.

CINCINNATI, June 3.—Times-Star special from Catlettsburg, Ky., says: A masked mob of 150 this morning came by rail from Ashland, took George Ellis out of jail at Catlettsburg, took him to Ashland, near the scene of the murder and outrage of the Gibbons girls last December, and hanged him to a sycamore tree. George Ellis was convicted of manslaughter yesterday on an indictment of murder of these girls. It was his testimony that convicted William Neal and Ellis Craft, who are now in jail at Lexington, Ky. George Ellis and these two were taken by [illegible] from Catlettsburg under military escort last January. [illegible]

[illegible], June 3.—[illegible] Matthews was hanged here to-day for the murder of [illegible] Polk, near [illegible] station.

The Mississippi Still Rampant.

NEW ORLEANS, June 3.—The Mississippi river is very full, and declining slowly at Vicksburg. The decline here since the highest, March 27th, is only twenty-six inches. The water is still running through every draining crevice in the state and very extensive areas of plantations are still inundated. Alarm is occasioned by reports of a rise in the tributary rivers between St. Louis and here.

Burial Rites Refused.

DENVER, June 3.—Father Baverty, vicar general of the bishop of this section, to-day refused to allow the rites of the Catholic church administered over the remains of the late Don Miguel Otero, millionaire and one of the foremost men of New Mexico, the reason alleged being that Otero died a Mason. Members of the Masonic order, assisted by Episcopal clergymen, conducted the burial services.

Notable Dead.

HARRISON, June 3.—Commander Terry, of the navy, brother of Major General Terry, died to-day in Colorado of consumption.

LONDON, June 3.—George Henry, third marquis of Conyngham, equerry to the queen and lieutenant general of the army, is dead, aged 57.

Chicago Notes.

It is stated that owing to strict enforcement of the gambling law in St. Louis, gamblers of that city are flocking to Chicago, and that a number of new houses are about to be opened here.

CHICAGO, June 3.—One brick-making firm yesterday turned off 40,000 brick, employing non-union men, and they as well as other firms will run on full capacity next week.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Trescott not to be Interviewed.

Trescott and Walker Blaine arrived here this morning and called at the state department to report their return to the secretary of state. Both had a short conversation with Frelinghuysen. Blaine would like to remain in the state department as 3d assistant secretary, but it is understood that Frelinghuysen does not desire to have any member of the Blaine family quite so near him. Trescott in an interview said that until he had fully reported to the secretary of state concerning his mission to Peru and Chili, he could not say a word for the public ear. He could not even say whether his mission was ended or what it would end in, but if it should be ended at once he would be a free man, and could talk as freely as any one.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—It looks as though the railroads west of Chicago have killed the goose that lays the golden egg by asking Postmaster-General Howe too much for the fast train. He is in doubt about putting it on.

The public debt reduction for 11 months is about $149,000,000, and will be for the year over $150,000,000. At this rate the debt will be paid off in 10 years. The reduction for May is 50 per cent. more than for May last year.

Reports from Pennsylvania say the independent ticket is growing stronger than ever its friends anticipated.

Republicans intend to keep up the fight on contested election cases, as long as there is any material left. Monday will probably be given over to the passage of bills under suspension of rules, and by that time another case or two will be ready. They count upon strengthening the republican backbone in the senate by this, and making large gains in the fall congressional contests.

The senate committee on territories considered a bill on Friday providing for re-apportionment of members of the legislative assembly in Montana. The committee also considered a bill to admit Washington territory into the union as a state, but came to no conclusion on either.

Sunday delivery in letter carriage, and reduction of letter postage to one cent was advocated to-day before Postmaster General Howe, by Representative Robinson, of New York. The postmaster general promised to give both matters immediate attention.

Regarding the compulsory retirement clause of the army bill for officers of the army, Gen. Sherman expresses himself as in favor of a bill that would be fair and just and with which the army would be compelled to comply.

The whisky bill investigation is not panning out as rich as some parties expected. Atherton, Stagy, and Wharton, promoters of the bill here, were examined to-day and swore that two lawyers had asked to be employed in pushing the bill, neither of them professing to have any influence with congressmen. All witnesses swore no newspaper man had approached them directly or indirectly for employment or compensation.

A resolution was introduced in the house Friday by ex-representative Finley of Florida, reciting that as the multiplication and enlargement of foreign markets for the surplus productions of the United States was essential to the general prosperity of the country, the committee on naval affairs be instructed to enquire and report as to the practicability of constructing iron or steel ocean steamers for commercial purposes and of granting government aid to the extent of giving them a fair and just compensation for carrying mails to and from foreign countries, on condition that they shall be built under direction of the secretary of the navy and be built and owned exclusively by American citizens and transferred to the government at a reasonable price whenever needed as ships of war. The resolution was referred to the naval committee, which considered it and agreed to report as a substitute a resolution asking leave for a sub-committee to sit during recess of congress and inquire into the subject and matter contained in the original resolution.

No opinion can be delivered on Reed's last motion in the Guiteau case until Monday. It is believed the decision will be very short, and no doubt is entertained the motion will be positively denied.

The General Deficiency Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The general deficiency bill appropriates nearly $9,000,000. The following are some of the items:

For army transportation, $900,000; for payment of army transportation lawfully due such land grant railroads as have not received aid in government bonds, $125,000; for railroad mail transportation, $1,1[illegible],000; for interest due Osage Indians, $[illegible]; for navy department, $[illegible]; to pay Creek Indians for land occupied by Seminole Indians, $175,000; to pay in full those in arrears for mail service during 1881 and prior years, $[illegible]; for foreign mail transportation $[illegible].

NEWS ABOUT THE STRIKES.

CHICAGO, June 2.—The wages which the iron workers are striking against are as follows: Nail feeders, $1 75 per day; helpers, $2; puddlers, $4 50 to $5; heaters, $6; rollers, $8 to $10. They demand an advance of 10 to 15 per cent. The knights of labor have taken a friendly interest in the brickmakers' strike and propose a conference for compromise and reconciliation. They represent in the interest of the strikers that employers have given no answer and are not much inclined to treat with the men who have been troublesome and evasive.

The attack of dock laborers at Bridgeport last night upon the Chicago and Alton train was well executed and evinced careful planning. They were thoroughly armed with sticks, clubs and pieces of iron and stones. The number of broken and bruised heads attest their effectiveness. Three had their skulls laid bare by various blows and half a dozen others were crippled or hurt in various degrees. None of the injured are likely to die, even Judge Pillsbury being in a fair way of recovery at last accounts. The rioters quickly fled when their revenge was satisfied.

SOUTH CHICAGO, June 2.—No material change at Irondale this morning. All men are still out. President Jarrett has not arrived and a telegram has been received stating he will not come as expected. Corresponding Secretary Pat Carmondy, of the iron makers association here, has just received the following dispatch from President Jarrett at Pittsburg: "My instructions being only advisory, you are at liberty to stop, provided they all stop." Mr. Carmondy has also received the following telegram from Vice President Bulleck of Bayview, Milwaukee: "Do not work unless they sign the scales. We are out and will stop out until they all sign. I will call them out." Indications now are the men will stay out until manufacturers give in. The men claim they have half a million dollars in the treasury at Pittsburg, and also that steel and rail men will come to their aid with money when they need it. Employes of steel rail mills and iron rail mills, in all making about 1100 men, are out of employment here.

SOUTH CHICAGO, June 3.—Some iron workingmen favor going to work until June 15th. Some of them are loud in their denunciation of President Jarrett, claiming that he should not have consented that men should do anything different from Pittsburg. Leading men among the iron workers express great confidence in Jarrett, however. There will probably be a split among iron workers over the question as to whether to work till Monday, June 15th, pending arbitration, or whether to stick out until Pittsburg signs the scale. To-day is the semi-annual pay day at the mills, and the men are all quiet and orderly. Between $30,000 and $40,000 is being disbursed to the men.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Representatives of the Troy iron works say orders are so large they cannot fill them. Local manufacturers of nails report immense orders from Pittsburg and from speculators in consequence of strikes in the iron regions.

DES MOINES, June 3.—Brick makers, numbering over 500, have struck for 25 cents raise of wages. Employers are not likely to concede the demand.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Parliamentary Proceedings.

LONDON, June 2.—In commons, Under Foreign Secretary Dilke said Arabi Pasha had taken no further steps towards deposition of the khedive. The government believes all powers would accept the invitation to a congress. He also said the government was in communication with Admiral Seymour in regard to throwing up earthworks at Alexandria.

House went into committee of the whole upon the repression bill. Harcourt said the treason-felony clause would only apply to offenses committed after passage of the act. Parnell said the statement was satisfactory as far as it goes, but political offenses ought to be entirely excluded from the bill. After a warm discussion, Davey's amendment excluding cases of treason or treasonable felony from those to be tried by special common courts, was rejected, by 70 to 227.

John Bright's Speech.

LONDON, June 3.—John Bright, and Chamberlain, president of the board of trade, were present at the opening of the Birmingham Central Library. The former in a speech dwelt particularly upon the growth of literature in America. He recommended study of American poets, especially Whittier, the best gifts of whose genius were on the side of freedom. He also recommended study of Bancroft's history of the United States as conveying knowledge of some of the most important events of the last century and showing how the colonies grew to what will soon be the greatest nation on the face of the globe.

Brennan's Assertions.

LONDON, June 3.—Brennan, secretary of the land league, after his release yesterday, addressed a large assemblage in Kilkenny. He said his real jailors were Gladstone, Bright and Chamberlain, and the whole crowd of psuedo humanitarians and renegade republicans who composed the British cabinet. He hoped if the 800 suspects were called upon for real sacrifices, they would be ready, if necessary, to die for their country. They had seen the government acknowledge Michael Davitt as a conqueror, and much remained to be done. They must tear up the very roots of landlordism.

Egyptian Notes.

CAIRO, June 2.—The khedive has a telegram stating that the Ottoman commissioners will start for Egypt to-morrow without waiting for the conference.

Fresh earthworks are thrown up at Gabary and 304 cases of cartridges landed. Troops in the barracks hold excited meetings, demanding that Hallam Pasha be immediately proclaimed khedive. Military officers swagger about the street in a most offensive manner.

ALEXANDRIA, June 2.—A collector on the Ramleh railway stopped an Egyptian soldier for not purchasing a ticket. The soldier assaulted the collector, and other soldiers carried off the station master. The Dragoman and English and French consuls demanded release of the station master and trial of the soldiers. The demands were granted.

Shells are being prepared for immediate loading of guns of the fleet.

The electric light on the squadrons created a scare among Egyptian soldiers.

Petitions for deposition of the khedive are withdrawn from circulation.

It is reported that the sultan has telegraphed military chiefs deprecating discord among the different races professing the Moslem faith, and insisting upon the necessity of remaining statu quo.

Foreign Notes.

The speech of Defreycinet on the Egyptian question in the French chamber of deputies on the 2d inst. made a good impression in Berlin, and will confirm Bismarck's desire to give moral support to the present French government.

The resignation of Fitzgerald, baron of the exchequer of Ireland, was due to his unwillingness to undertake the duties imposed by the repression bill.

The lord chief baron of the exchequer in Ireland, in opening the Dublin commission on the 2d inst said 60 per cent. of crime in the city and 70 per cent. in the country was undetected. This was matter for grave reflection. As to the Phœnix Park murders, he understood there was no chance of bringing the perpetrators to justice.

The Berlin Kreuz Zeitung draws attention to growing feeling of hostility to Germans penetrating the highest aristocracy in Russian circles.

THE TURF.

Coney Island Races.

CONEY ISLAND, June 2.—Thursday's programme was run to-day—¾ mile, all ages; Laura Glass won; Rob Roy 2d; Clara 3d. Time, 1:30½.

Selling race, 1 mile—Odene 1st; Sportsman 2d; Monk 3d. Time, 1:45¾.

Mile and furlong, all ages—Agloria won; Potomac 2d; Col. Sprague 3d. Time, 1:58¾.

Terror won the hurdle race; Kitty Clark 2d; Ike Bonham 3d. The $5 mutual pool ticket fooled $138.

The corporated council decides that pending injunction book-making at Jerome Park cannot be interfered with.

Races at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, June 2.—The track was heavy in spots. First race—one mile for beaten horses; Darley won; Tom Barlow, 2nd; Manitou, 3d. Time 1:50½.

Second race—Jockey Club stakes for 2-year olds, three-quarters of a mile; Bannerette won; Ella, 2nd. Time, 1:22.

Third race — Three quarters of a mile; L. B. Sprague won; Hickory Jim, 2nd; Lord Edward, 3d. Time, 1:21, 1:21, 1:18.

MEXICO.

Indians Badly Whipped.

DENVER, June 2.—The Tribune's Santa Fe special says: A Chihuahua dispatch states that General Perez, commander of the Mexican troops in Chihuahua, with four hundred Mexican cavalry, surprised and attacked Ju's band of renegade Apaches early this morning (June 25th) near Bosque de Santiago, and whipped them unmercifully. Thirty-seven bucks were killed, ten taken prisoners and the entire camp outfit, including fifty head of stock, captured. The Mexican loss was one officer and eight men. The losses sustained in previous fights with U. S. and Mexican troops leaves the hostiles badly demoralized.

CANADA.

Fire at Quebec.

QUEBEC, June 2.—The Grand Trunk railroad station and sheds, and Dominion, Ontario & Quebec immigration sheds and offices at South Quebec burned to-night. Several Inter-Colonial and Grand Trunk cars were also burned. Benoit's hotel, adjoining the station, was gutted. Loss variously estimated at $100,000 to $400,000, according to value of freight in sheds. Nothing can be ascertained about insurance, as that is arranged in Montreal.

NEW MEXICO.

On a Tour of Investigation.

ALBUQUERQUE, June 2.—Two special agents, Bower and Tidball, have been to Las Vegas, Santa Fe and Albuquerque, investigating the affairs of John Sherman, U. S. marshal of New Mexico. They proceed to Prescott to examine the marshal's office and also look into the charges preferred against Judge [illegible].

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

House.

WASHINGTON, June 3.

Immediately after reading of the journal the house opened consideration of the Alabama contested election case of Lowe vs. Wheeler.

Thompson of Iowa favored contestant's claim and declared Wheeler had to be so [illegible] by the election committee.

Mills, of Texas, spoke in advocacy of the right of a sitting member to retain his seat and was followed by Jones, of Texas, in favor of contestant.

Atherton (Ohio) used an hour reading report of minority. Calling attention to the fact that but three republicans were paying the slightest attention, he criticised such attention on the part of judges who were to decide the case. It had been charged there was an agreement between certain greenbackers on the other side, tending to [illegible] and the republican party.

Jones of Texas pronounced the charge to be false.

Atherton—Very well; I will show you that the republican party itself charges it.

He then quoted from the Washington Republican to the effect that greenbackers had been steadfast and true to republicans in the recent election cases, and the latter were bound in honor to do justice to Lowe.

Several republicans—That is it, justice.

Atherton replied, soon it would be found what instruments in republican ranks. There were now 26 republicans in the chamber, but when the matter came to a vote 150 would come without knowing anything about the case, raise the axe and take the head off a sitting member.

Herr of (Mich) entered into an ironical eulogy upon the great intellectual energy and statesmanship shown by the democrats during the recent filibustering movement. He characterized Randall as the Napoleon of the contest, Blackburn as its Marshal Ney, and Springer as the Joan of Arc, (laughter) and ridiculed the courageous manner in which they came up to make motions to adjourn over. The last named gentleman had not entered into the contest until after Waterloo, and while Napoleon was on his way to St. Helena.

Pending further discussing Cannon of Ill. reported from committee on appropriations, the legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bill, (items of which have already been published), and it was referred to committee of the whole.

Hiscock from the same committee reported back the general deficiency bill and it received a similar reference. The election case went over till tomorrow when the previous question will be called early in the session. House adjourned.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

The Freight Situation at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—Except that the list of ships loading wheat is considerably reduced, that disengaged tonnage has been slightly increased by arrivals, and that numerous additions have been made to the fleet heading for California, there is little of interest to report. The few charters made have been at steady rates, and holders of tonnage are not inclined to shade terms. Wooden ships are rich at 2 pounds 10 shillings direct, but it is very doubtful if that figure could be obtained at the close. Iron ships are nominally quotable at 2 pounds 15 shillings for Cork, U. K.

Found Dead.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—Miss Clara, daughter of ex-Supreme Judge Crockett, was found dead in an attic room of her brother's with a handkerchief saturated with chloroform over her face. Her death is supposed accidental, as she has been in the habit of using the drug to deaden the pain of a disease with which she was afflicted.

San Francisco Notes.

Judge Hoffman of the U. S. district court rendered a decision Friday afternoon, condemning a ton of opium seized by officers in the harbor, the 31st of January last.

The British steamer Strathairly, which recently arrived with 1056 Chinese, has been measured and found to have a legal carrying capacity of only 730. The overplus of 325 at $50 per head penalty, will eat up the profits of the voyage.

Mono has been assessed 20 cents.

NEVADA.

The Men All Right.

VIRGINIA CITY, June 2.—A miner named Pike, of the Union shaft, by wearing a helmet has penetrated to the end of Alta drift. He found the seven men all right, sitting in the cooling of the two hundred feet from the end of the drift. The only lives lost were those of the two men who went in with the boat this morning.

The Miners Rescued.

VIRGINIA CITY, June 3.—To-night six men penetrated Alta drift with refreshments for the imprisoned miners. All wore helmets to enable them to pass the belt of three hundred feet of foul air between the entrance and end of the drift. The prisoners were found in comparatively good condition. They had turned the water from the drift into their ice-water keg and emptied the twisted end of the compressed air pipe into the barrel and, standing around, breathed the air thus cooled as it rose through the water. About midnight all were removed from the drift. The bodies of Bennets and Callahan, who perished in attempting a rescue by boat, have been recovered.

ARIZONA.

Indians to be Disarmed.

TUCSON, June 2.—A Star special from Fort Thomas says: Orders have been dispatched to all detachments of troops in the field to concentrate at once at San Carlos, as trouble is anticipated. It is stated on good authority that orders for disarming Indians have been received at the agency, which causes anticipated trouble. Forces on Ash creek have been increased by four companies. This is the pass Indians generally go through when leaving the reservation.

ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE OREGON Railway and Navigation Company:

You are hereby notified that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company will be held at the office of the company, at Portland, Oregon, on Monday, June 19th, 1882, at eleven o'clock A. M.; and you are further notified that at said meeting, in pursuance of a resolution duly passed at a regular meeting of the board of directors of said company, held May 31, 1882, the following resolution, authorizing the filing of supplementary articles of incorporation of this company, will be submitted for the action of the stockholders, namely:

Resolved, That the directors of this company be and are hereby instructed and directed to file as soon as they can be reasonably prepared and executed, supplementary articles of incorporation, amending Article III of the present articles of this company by inserting at the end of subdivision V of Article III of the original articles, the following subdivision:

VIII. To construct and equip the following railroad and telegraph lines, namely—

"First. A line from the city of Walla Walla, in Washington Territory, in a generally easterly direction to Snake river at or near Texas Ferry, and thence following the valley of the Snake river to Lewiston, in Idaho Territory, with a branch from a point on said line about [illegible] miles south of [illegible] City in a generally easterly direction to the said city of Lewiston.

"Second. A line from the said city of Walla Walla to the town of Pendleton, in the County of Umatilla, in the State of Oregon.

"Third. A line from a junction with the present railroad of said company between The Dalles and Umatilla, in the state of Oregon, at a point at or near the mouth of John Days river, up the valley of said river a distance of about ninety miles to the big bend of said river, with a branch from said line from a point at or near the mouth of Rock Creek, up the valley of said Rock Creek to a point about thirty miles distant from the mouth thereof.

"Fourth. A line from a junction with the road of said company extending from The Dalles to Umatilla, in the state of Oregon, at or near the mouth of Willow Creek, up the valley of Willow Creek, to the town of Heppner.

"Fifth. A line from a point of junction with the present located line of said company's road from Umatilla to Baker City, at or near the mouth of Butter creek, to a point thirty miles distant from the said point of junction; and to maintain and operate such railroads and telegraph lines and branches, and carry freight and passengers thereon, and receive tolls for the same."

NOTICE OF ANNUAL STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE OREGON and Transcontinental Company:

You are hereby notified that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon and Transcontinental Company will be held at the office of the company, at the city of Portland, in the county of Multnomah, in the state of Oregon, on Monday, the 26th day of June, 1882, at 12 o'clock M. of said day, for the purpose of electing directors of said company to serve for the ensuing year and transacting such other business as may come before the meeting.

And you are further notified that in pursuance of a resolution duly passed at a meeting of the board of directors of said company, held at the office of the company May 31, 1882, the following resolution, authorizing the filing of supplementary articles of incorporation of said company, will be submitted to said annual stockholders' meeting for consideration and adoption, viz.:

Resolved, That the directors of this company be and they are hereby instructed and directed to file as soon as they can reasonably be prepared and executed, supplementary articles of incorporation, amending the present articles of this company by inserting at the end of the 13th clause or section of the first subdivision of Article Three of the original articles the following:

13th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point of junction with the Northern Pacific railroad, at or near the mouth of Washtucna Coulee, in the territory of Washington, in a generally easterly direction up said Washtucna Coulee, by way of Rebel Flat, to a point at or near the town of Moscow, in Idaho territory, with a branch line from a junction with said line near the mouth of Rebel Flat creek, in a generally northeasterly direction, by way of Cottonwood creek, to the town of Farmington, in said territory of Washington.

And another branch line from a point of junction with said line about three miles west of the town of Colfax, in the territory of Washington through the town of Colfax, and thence up the south branch of the Palouse river to its head.

14th—A railroad and telegraph line commencing at or near Sand Point station, on the Northern Pacific railroad, in the territory of Idaho, and following down the valley of Clarke's Fork of the Columbia river to its junction with the Columbia river; thence down the valley of the Columbia river to a point at or near the town of Ainsworth, in Washington territory.

15th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Northern Pacific railroad at or near the town of Spokane Falls, in the territory of Washington, by the most practicable route, via the valley of the Colville river, to the junction of said Colville river with the Columbia river, in said territory.

16th—A railroad and telegraph line from, at or near the town of Spokane Falls, in the territory of Washington, down the Spokane river to its mouth.

17th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Northern Pacific railroad, at or near the town of Spokane Falls, in the territory of Washington, in a generally northwesterly direction, via the middle pass of the Grand Coulee to the Columbia river, about seven miles above Old Fort Okinakane, with a branch line from a junction with said line at said middle pass of the Grand Coulee, in a generally westerly direction to the Columbia river, at a point about ten miles above the mouth of the Whatcene river.

18th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Northern Pacific railroad near Lake Colville in the territory of Washington, in a generally westerly direction, by the way of Sylvan lake and Crab creek, skirting the southern slope of the Badger mountains, to the Columbia river, crossing the said river at the most eligible point below the mouth of the Whatcene river; thence up the Whatcene river to its head, crossing the Cascade mountains at Ward's pass; thence down the Skykomish and Snohomish rivers to the town of Cadyville; thence in a northerly direction along the shore of Puget sound to Fidalgo island in said territory of Washington.

19th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point at or near Thirty Mile Well station, on the Northern Pacific railroad, in the territory of Washington, to Ringgold bar, in the Columbia river; thence in a generally westerly direction, by the most practicable route, to Yakima City; thence up the Natches river, crossing the Cascade mountains at Natches pass, thence in a generally northwesterly direction to the city of New Tacoma, in said territory of Washington.

20th—A railroad and telegraph line, from at or near the town of Ainsworth, in Washington territory, in a generally northwesterly direction up the Yakima river, crossing the Cascade mountains at Garfield pass; thence in a generally northeasterly direction to the city of Seattle, in the territory of Washington.

21st—A railroad and telegraph line from a point of junction with the Northern Pacific railroad at or near Lake Colville, in Washington territory, in a generally northerly direction, to the Big Bend in the Columbia river in said territory.

22d—A railroad and telegraph line from a point of junction with the Northern Pacific railroad at or near Rathdrum station, in Idaho territory, in a northeasterly direction to Fort Coeur d'Alene, in said territory.

23d—A railroad and telegraph line from a point at or near the town of Spokane Falls, on the line of the Northern Pacific railroad, in Washington territory, in a generally southeasterly direction, a distance of about sixty miles up the valley of Hangman's creek, to its head, in the territory of Idaho.

24th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Northern Pacific railroad at or near the town of Cheney, in the territory of Washington, in a generally southeasterly direction to a connection with the aforesaid line, from the mouth of Rebel Flat to the town of Farmington.

25th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Columbia river at or near the mouth of Nechoh-al-pit-kwa river, in Washington territory, up said Nechoh-al-pit-kwa river, to the mouth of Rock creek, thence in a generally westerly direction, by the most practicable route, to Lake Osoyoos, in said territory.

26th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Columbia river at or near the mouth of San Puell river, in the territory of Washington, in a generally northerly direction to a junction with the last mentioned line, about forty miles east of Lake Osoyoos.

27th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point on the Columbia river at or near the mouth of the Okinakane river, in the territory of Washington, in a generally northerly direction to Lake Osoyoos.

28th—A railroad and telegraph line from the town of Lewiston, on Snake river in Idaho territory, in a generally easterly direction up the valley of Clearwater river, crossing the Bitter Root mountains to the town of Missoula in the territory of Montana.

29th—A railroad and telegraph line from the town of Lewiston, in Idaho territory, in a southerly direction, up the valley of the Snake river, to a point at or near Boise City, in said territory.

30th—A railroad and telegraph line from a point of junction with the Northern Pacific railroad, running from the town of Kalama to the city of New Tacoma, in the territory of Washington, about [illegible] miles south of the city of New Tacoma, in a generally northerly direction to the city of Seattle, in said territory.
